MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE MUNICIPAL FISCAL POWERS AND FUNCTIONS BILL, 2007

1. BACKGROUND OF THE BILL

The Constitution

- 1.1 Section 229(1)(a) of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 (“the Constitution”), empowers municipalities to impose municipal surcharges on fees for services provided by them or on their behalf.
- 1.2 Municipalities may in terms of section 229(1)(b) also, if authorised by national legislation, impose other taxes, levies and duties (“taxes”) appropriate to local government or to the category of local government into which that municipality falls, but excluding an income tax, a value-added tax, general sales tax and customs duties.
- 1.3 Section 229(2) subjects these powers to regulation by national legislation and policy.
- 1.4 The Bill meets constitutional requirements by defining the manner in which the national government, through the Minister of Finance, will exercise its policy oversight role, regulatory role and authorisation role in respect of municipal surcharges and taxes, other than property rates regulated under the Local Government: Municipal Property Rates Act, 2004 (Act No. 6 of 2004).
- 1.5 The Bill does not list or identify specific taxes which municipalities may enact. Responsibility for initiating a municipal tax proposal rests with municipalities and organised local government and they may propose any tax not prohibited by the Constitution. The Minister of Finance is also empowered to authorise, of his or her own accord, a municipal tax. The Bill regulates the process by which municipal taxes are authorised and imposed.
- 1.6 The Bill does not cover municipal user charges which are regulated under the Local Government: Municipal Systems Act, 2000 (Act No. 32 of 2000), and the Local Government: Municipal Finance Management Act, 2003 (Act No. 56 of 2003).
- 1.7 Existing taxes imposed under national legislation prior to the date of the Act in the instance of Regional Services Councils (RSC) and Joint Service Board (JSB) levies, lapsed on 30 June 2006, and in other instances will be subject to approval within two years after the commencement of the Bill.

Regional Services Councils (RSC) and Joint Service Board (JSB) levies

- 1.1 The Minister, in his 2005 Budget Speech, announced the phasing out of the RSC and JSB levies provided for in the Regional Services Council Act, 1985 (Act No. 109 of 1985), and the KwaZulu and Natal Joint Services Act, 1990 (Act No. 84 of 1990), with effect from 1 July 2006. These levies do not meet generally accepted principles of sound taxation (e.g. equity, efficiency, certainty, simplicity, ease of administration). They are a holdover from the previous local government system and are highly imperfect local revenue instruments for the achievement of the goals of economic and administrative efficiency and local autonomy. These levies are inefficient (both economically and administratively), inequitable and a poorly administered tax instrument. Both the Margo and Katz Commissions expressed concerns about the economic efficiency and administrative feasibility of the RSC levies.
- 1.2 The repeal of section 93(6) of the Local Government: Municipal Structures Act, 1998 (Act No. 117 of 1998), by section 59(1) of the Small Business Tax Amnesty and Amendment of Taxation Laws Act, 2006 (Act No. 9 of 2006), will remove district and metropolitan municipalities’ authority to collect these levies, effectively remove these levies as a local tax instrument and further the policy objective of providing a fair and equitable tax system in South Africa.

- 1.3 Despite the deficiencies, RSC and JSB levies are currently an important source of revenue for district and metropolitan municipalities, making up seven per cent or R6,6 billion of total local government revenue in the 2005/06 municipal fiscal year. Whereas metropolitan municipalities collect two-thirds of these levies, it accounts for a small but significant percentage (eight per cent) of their overall income. Conversely, district municipalities collect only a third of these levies, but it accounts for a much larger share (31 per cent) of overall district municipality income. Levy income per municipality for the 2005/06 financial year varied between R247 million and R1 575 million (average R737 million) for metropolitan municipalities and between R3 million and R165 million (average R45 million) for district municipalities. Revenue from RSC and JSB levies of approximately R7 billion was projected for the 2006/07 municipal financial year.
- 1.4 For district and metropolitan municipalities to meet their expenditure obligations, especially in terms of poverty alleviation and social and economic development, it is important to maintain existing levels of revenue streams. The 2005 Medium Term Budget Policy Statement indicated that national government would compensate municipalities for lost revenue within the national budget framework, and that options for alternative tax or revenue sharing arrangements were under consideration. To ensure a smooth transition from the old to the new system, allocations in the short- to medium-term will be based on historic RSC and JSB levy income collected. Allocations to replace the levy income have been included as part of the local government equitable share for the 2006 and 2007 Budgets. Any replacement tax or revenue sharing arrangements will only be considered over the medium-term. An announcement on permanent replacement options is not envisaged before the 2008 Budget.

2. OBJECTS OF BILL

2.1 The Bill seeks to—

- (a) promote predictability and certainty in respect of municipal fiscal powers and functions;
- (b) ensure that municipal fiscal powers and functions are exercised in a manner that will not materially and unreasonably prejudice national economic policies, economic activities across municipal boundaries, or the national mobility of goods, services, capital or labour; and
- (c) effectively oversee the exercise of municipal fiscal powers and functions, by—
 - (i) regulating the exercise by municipalities of their power to impose municipal surcharges on fees for services under section 229(1)(a) of the Constitution; and
 - (ii) authorising the taxes, levies and duties that municipalities may impose under section 229(1)(b) of the Constitution.

3. ORGANISATIONS AND INSTITUTIONS CONSULTED

The following institutions were consulted on the Bill:

- 3.1 The Financial and Fiscal Commission;
- 3.2 The South African Local Government Association;
- 3.3 The Department of Provincial and Local Government; and
- 3.4 Municipalities.

4. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS FOR STATE

- 4.1 The Bill will not have financial implications for the national or provincial government.
- 4.2 The implementation of municipal surcharges by municipalities will not have any additional financial implications for municipalities as the municipal surcharges will be collected through the same processes, procedures and systems that must be in place to collect fees for the services on which surcharges will be imposed.
- 4.3 There may be financial implications for those municipalities where existing surcharges raised are excessive and will need to be reduced on implementation of the norms and standards for surcharges.
- 4.4 Limited costs is associated with making an application for authorisation of municipal tax and start-up costs may be associated with the initial implementation of a municipal tax.

5. CONSTITUTIONAL IMPLICATIONS

The Bill gives effect to sections 229(1)(b) and 229(2) of the Constitution.

6. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

- 6.1 The State Law Advisers and the National Treasury are of the opinion that this Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure prescribed by section 75 of the Constitution since it contains no provision to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies.
- 6.2 The National Treasury has consulted organised local government and the Financial and Fiscal Commission and has considered the recommendations of the Commission, as required by section 229(5) of the Constitution.
- 6.3 The State Law Advisers are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer this Bill to the National House of Traditional Leaders in terms of section 18(1)(a) of the Traditional Leadership and Governance Framework Act, 2003 (Act No. 41 of 2003), since it does not contain provisions pertaining to customary law or customs of traditional communities.
