MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE REFUGEES AMENDMENT BILL, 2010

1. BACKGROUND AND OBJECTS OF BILL

1.1 The main objective of the Refugees Amendment Bill, 2010 (the Bill), is to amend the Refugees Act, 1998 (Act No. 130 of 1998) (the principal Act), as amended by the Refugees Amendment Act, 2008 (Act No. 33 of 2008) (the 2008 Amendment Act), in order to clarify how applications for refugees status rejected as manifestly unfounded and unfounded must be dealt with.

1.2 As defined in the Act, a manifestly unfounded application is an application for asylum made on grounds other than those on which such an application may be made under the Act. Those grounds are listed in section 3 of the Act, as follows:

"Subject to Chapter 3, a person qualifies for refugee status for the purposes of this Act if that person—

- (a) owing to a well-founded fear of being persecuted by reason of his or her race, gender, tribe, religion, nationality, political opinion or membership of a particular social group, is outside the country of his or her nationality and is unable or unwilling to avail himself or herself of the protection of that country, or, not having a nationality and being outside the country of his or her former habitual residence is unable or, owing to such fear, unwilling to return to it; or
- (b) owing to external aggression, occupation, foreign domination or other events seriously disturbing public order in either a part or the whole of his or her country of origin or nationality, is compelled to leave his or her place of habitual residence in order to seek refuge in another place outside his or her country of origin or nationality; or
- (c) is a spouse or dependant of a person contemplated in paragraph (a) or (b)."

An unfounded application, on the other hand, is an application made on the above grounds but which is without merit.

1.3 Asylum seekers whose applications are rejected as manifestly unfounded, abusive or fraudulent in terms of section 24(3)(b) need not apply for an appeal in terms of section 24B. Their applications are automatically reviewed by the Director-General in terms of section 24A.

1.4 Applications rejected in terms of section 24(3)(c) as unfounded, on the other hand, are dealt with by the Refugees Appeals Authority in terms of section 24B.

1.5 However, sections 24(4) and (5) and 24B(1) and (2) of the principal Act, as amended by the 2008 Amendment Act, still make reference to section 24(3)(b) applications as appealable to the Appeals Authority. For instance, in terms of section 24(4) the Refugee Status Determination Officer must inform the applicant of his or her right to appeal in terms of section 24B if an application is rejected in terms of subsection (3)(b) or (c).

1.6 Furthermore, in terms of section 24B(1) any asylum seeker whose application has been rejected in terms of section 24(3)(b) or (c) may lodge an appeal with the Refugees Appeals Authority in the prescribed manner.

1.7 The Bill therefore seeks to clarify the situation by creating a committee that will deal with applications for asylum in terms of the Act instead of the Refugee Status Determination Officer, as is currently the case. This amendment will ensure that the applications for asylum in terms of the Act are dealt with efficiently, promptly and in a less subjective fashion.

1.8 Once the committee has decided on the applications in terms of section 24(3)(b) (reject them as manifestly unfounded applications) the Director-General will automatically review such decision under section 24A. If the applications are rejected as unfounded in terms of section 24(3)(c), the asylum seeker may lodge an appeal with the Refugee Appeals Authority.

2. CLAUSE BY CLAUSE ANALYSIS

2.1 Clause 1 amends, inserts and deletes certain definitions of the principal Act.

2.2 Clause 2 amends section 4(1)(b) of the principal Act by excluding a person that has committed a crime that is not of a political nature and, if committed in the Republic, would be punishable by imprisonment, from qualifying for refugee status.

2.3.1 Clause 3 substitutes section 8(2) of the principal Act, which provides for the Refugee Status Determination Officer for each Refugee Reception Office established and provides for the establishment by the Director-General in the prescribed manner of the Status Determination Committee for all Refugee Reception Offices. to consider and deal with applications for asylum in accordance with section 24 of the principal Act.

2.3.2 This clause further deletes section 8(3) of the principal Act. which requires the Director-General to appoint administrative staff connected to the functions of the Refugee Reception Offices.

2.4 Clause 4 amends section 8E (f) of the principal Act by adding the words “holding a position in the national executive structure of any political party” in paragraph (f).

2.5.1 Clause 5 substitutes section 21B(2) of the principal Act. which provides for the registration of a child born of a Refugee as a dependant at any Refugee Reception Office. by providing for registration of such a child and a child born of an asylum seeker in terms of Births and Deaths Registration Act, 1992 (Act No. 51 of 1992).

2.5.2 Clause 5 further provides for an asylum seeker or refugee to submit the certificate issued in terms of the Births and Deaths Registration Act, 1992, at any Refugee Reception Office, in order to have the said child included as a dependant of such asylum seeker or refugee.

2.6.1 Clause 6 amends section 24 of the principal Act by deleting subsection (2)(b), which provides that a United Nations High Commission on Refugees or its representative may be consulted or invited to furnish information on specified matters. This clause further amends section 24 in order to substitute the words “Refugee Status Determination Officer” for the words “Status Determination Committee” in subsections (2), (3) and (4).

2.6.2 This clause further provides for a hearing by the Status Determination Committee to be conducted in the prescribed manner.

2.6.3 This clause further amends section 24(4) in order to separate applications that are rejected as manifestly unfounded, abusive or fraudulent from being dealt with in the same procedure as applications rejected as unfounded applications.

2.7.1 Clause 7 amends section 24A of the principal Act by the addition of subsection (5), which provides that an application reviewed by the Director-General is deemed to have been finalised upon receipt of the decision by the applicant in accordance with subsection (6).

2.7.2 This clause further adds subsection (6) to section 24A, which requires the Status Determination Committee to inform the applicant of the outcome of the review and the consequences thereof, in the prescribed manner.

2.8.1 Clause 8 amends section 24B of the principal Act in order to separate applications that are rejected as manifestly unfounded, abusive or fraudulent from being dealt with in the same procedure as applications rejected as unfounded applications. The effect of the amendment will be that an applicant whose application has been rejected as manifestly unfounded, abusive or fraudulent, cannot lodge an appeal to the Refugee Appeals Authority. Such a rejection will be reviewed by the Director-General.

2.8.2 This clause furthermore deletes subsection (3)(a), which provides that the Refugee Appeals Authority may invite a United Nations High Commission on Refugees representative to make oral or written representations before the Refugee Appeals Authority makes a decision.

2.9 Clause 9 amends section 27 of the Act by empowering the Minister instead of the Director-General to review the status of refugee after five years of continuous residence in the Republic.

2.10 Clause 10(a) amends section 36(1) of the principal Act, which gives the Director-General a discretion to withdraw a person’s refugee status under certain circumstances. The proposed amendment seeks to empower the Minister instead of the Director-General to withdraw a person’s refugee status.

Clause 10(b), on the other hand, amends section 36(1)(b), which gives the Director-General a discretion to withdraw a person’s refugee status if such person has been recognised as a refugee due to an error, omission or oversight committed by the Refugee Status Determination Officer in good faith, by substituting the words “Refugee Status Determination Officer” for the words “Status Determination Committee”. This clause further removes the words “in good faith” from this paragraph. In essence that means the Director-General, now substituted for the Minister, may withdraw a person’s refugee status if such person has been recognised as a refugee due to an error, omission or oversight by the Status Determination Committee, whether such error, omission or oversight was made in good faith or not.

2.11 Clause 11 amends section 38(1)(d) of the principal Act in order to effect a certain technical correction.

2.12 Clause 12 amends the principal Act by substituting the words “Refugee Status Determination Officer”, wherever they occur, for the words “Status Determination Committee”.

2.13 Clause 13 deals with the short title and commencement.

3. INSTITUTIONS CONSULTED

None.

4. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS FOR STATE

None.

5. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

5.1 The State Law Advisers and the Department of Home Affairs are of the opinion that the Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established by section 75 of the Constitution since it contains no provision to which the procedure set out in sections 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies.

5.2 The State Law Advisers are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer this Bill to the National House of Traditional Leaders in terms of section 18(1)(a) of the Traditional Leadership and Governance Framework Act, 2003 (Act No. 41 of 2003), since it does not contain provisions pertaining to customary law or customs of traditional communities.
