MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE INDEPENDENT POLICE INVESTIGATIVE DIRECTORATE BILL, 2010

1. BACKGROUND

- 1.1 The Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 (“the Constitution”), makes provision for the establishment of an Independent Police Investigative Directorate, in section 206(6), which stipulates that:

“[o]n receipt of a complaint lodged by a provincial executive, an independent police complaints body established by national legislation must investigate any alleged misconduct of, or offence committed by, a member of the police services in the province”

- 1.2 The establishment of the Independent Police Investigative Directorate (“the Directorate”) will ensure that section 206(6) of the Constitution is implemented. The Constitution requires that an independent complaints body must be established by national legislation to function. The Directorate will be independent from the police service and will report to the Cabinet member responsible for policing. The Directorate will ensure independent oversight of the South African Police Service and Municipal Police Services.
- 1.3 The current Independent Complaints Directorate (“ICD”) is established in terms of the South African Police Service Act (Act No. 68 of 1995), which pre-dates the Constitution. The Bill seeks to also change the name of the current ICD to the Directorate. The rationale behind the name change is to brand the Directorate as a body which functions independently from the police service and that its focus is to conduct investigations of offences by police members, rather than merely receiving complaints. The thrust of the work of the Directorate, in the process of conducting investigations, is to address systemic problems within the police service with a view to recommending appropriate interventions.
- 1.4 The work of the Directorate will contribute towards ensuring that the police service becomes a professional police service that operates within the spirit of our constitutional norms.

2. OBJECTS OF THE BILL

- 2.1 The objects of this Act are—

- (a) to give effect to the provision of section 206(6) of the Constitution establishing and assigning functions to the Directorate on national and provincial level;
- (b) to ensure independent oversight of the South African Police Service and Municipal Police Services;
- (c) to align provincial strategic objectives with that of the national office to enhance the functioning of the Directorate;
- (d) to provide for independent and impartial investigation of identified criminal offences allegedly committed by members of the South African Police Service and Municipal Police Services;
- (e) to make disciplinary recommendations in respect of members of the South African Police Service and Municipal Police Services resulting from investigations conducted by the Directorate;
- (f) to provide for close co-operation between the Directorate and the Secretariat; and

- (g) to enhance accountability and transparency by the South African Police Service and Municipal Police Services in accordance with the principles of the Constitution.

2.2 Structure of Bill

(a) Chapter 1: Definitions, Objects of Act, Establishment, Independence and Impartiality

This Chapter provides detailed definitions of all technical terms and references. It further provides for the Objects of the Act. In order to ensure that the Directorate operates in all provinces, the Bill seeks to structure the Directorate at a national level, with provincial offices. The independence from the police service will lend itself to giving the Directorate the necessary credibility.

(b) Chapter 2: National Office

The national office is established under this Chapter, with the Executive Director being appointed by the Minister through a transparent process. The responsibilities of the Executive Director are outlined. The composition of the national office is outlined to ensure that the Directorate is appropriately structured to carry out its mandate. Security screening of appointed members is to be done in conjunction with the National Intelligence Agency to ensure integrity and security of information.

The functions of the Directorate are clearly spelt out to provide certainty, to ensure that the constitutional mandate is carried out and to ensure that its work contributes to the development of a professional police service that complies with the constitutional norms and standards.

(c) Chapter 3: Management Committee

This Chapter establishes a Management Committee comprised of an Executive Director and a provincial head of each provincial office of the Directorate. This Committee will ensure that there is proper coordination and alignment within each province with regard to the core mandate of the Directorate and the priorities, objectives and strategies across national and provincial levels.

(d) Chapter 4: Consultative Forum

This Chapter establishes a Consultative Forum comprising the Executive Director and the Secretary of Police. The underlying purpose is to facilitate closer co-operation between the Secretary of Police and the Executive Director, both of whom report to the Minister in conducting oversight of the police service. The Secretariat for the Police Service and the Directorate need to have a collaborative relationship in the context of their respective mandates. The Chapter further details the functions of the forum.

(e) Chapter 5: Provincial Offices

This Chapter provides for the appointment of the provincial heads of the Directorate and clear responsibilities of the provincial heads.

(f) Chapter 6: Appointment, Remuneration, Functions and Powers of Investigators

This Chapter provides for the appointment of investigators of the Directorate to investigate offences by police members, the types of matters to be investigated and the powers of the investigators. This Chapter provides clarity and certainty in all these areas. To prevent poaching, the remuneration of investigators is to be commensurate with that of detectives in the South African Police Service.

(g) Chapter 7: Reporting Obligations and Cooperation by members of the South African Police Services and Municipal Police Services and Disciplinary Recommendations

This Chapter places an obligation on members of the South African Police Services and Municipal Police Services to immediately notify the Directorate of matters which falls within their mandate. It further provides that they must provide their full cooperation. It also provides that the National or appropriate Provincial Commissioner must initiate disciplinary proceedings within 30 days and must report to the Minister on the progress thereof.

(h) Chapter 8: Finances and Accountability and Annual Report

This Chapter provides for financial reporting and accountability to ensure the integrity of financial spending and record-keeping and transparency. It further provides for an annual report.

(i) Chapter 9: Offences and Penalties

Criminal penalties are provided to ensure that there is no interference with or obstruction to the work of the Directorate and that information is protected and not abused.

(j) Chapter 10: Regulations, Transitional Arrangements, Repeal and Short Title and Commencement

This Chapter empowers the Minister to make regulations that will enable the Directorate to carry out its mandate and provides for transitional arrangements that will allow for the continuation of the responsibilities and work of the ICD pending the establishment of the Directorate in terms of the Independent Police Investigative Directorate Act.
