MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION BILL, 1997

The Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 (Act No. 108 of 1996), envisages that the newly established, single Public Service Commission for the Republic will no longer be responsible for the day to day administration of departments of State, but that the said Commission will perform the functions set out in section 196(4), (5) and (6) of the said Constitution. Detailed provisions governing the appointment of commissioners and the manner in which they may be removed from office are also contained in the said Constitution. It is, however, a constitutional requirement that the said Commission be regulated by national legislation. The most important objects of the Bill are to make provision for—

- * conditions of appointment of commissioners;
- * mechanisms to facilitate the performance of the said Commission's functions;
and
- * the abolition of the existing Public Service Commission and the provincial service commissions.

In the opinion of the State Law Adviser, the Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure prescribed by section 76 of the said Constitution.

INTERESTED PARTIES CONSULTED:

- * All departments and provincial administrations
- * The Public Service Commission
- * Provincial service commissions.
