MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE FURTHER EDUCATION AND TRAINING BILL, 1998

1. OBJECTS

The main objects of the Further Education and Training Bill are to establish a single co-ordinated system for further education and training and to restructure and transform institutions and programmes for further education and training so that they can respond better to the manpower and economic needs of the Republic of South Africa.

Section 29(1)(b) of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa determines that everyone has the right to further education, which the State, through reasonable measures, must make progressively available and accessible. This Bill makes provision for all learning programmes leading to qualifications for the equivalent of grades 10, 11 and 12 in terms of the National Qualifications Framework. This education will be provided in institutions, including secondary schools.

This Bill provides for the main aspects of further education and training.

It makes provision for further education and training at any institution which provides further education and training on a full-time, part-time or distance basis and which is established in terms of this Act and registered under this Act.

It recognises the National Board for Further Education and Training, which is to be established by regulations in terms of section 11 of the National Education Policy Act, 1996 (Act No. 27 of 1996).

It makes provision for an MEC to establish public further education and training institutions and for the merging of two or more public further education and training institutions.

It also makes provision for the institutional governance structure which includes a council and an academic board.

The Bill makes provision for the funding of further education and training institutions by the State and for norms and minimum standards for the funding of the institutions.

The Bill also makes the establishment of private institutions for further education and training possible. These institutions are to be registered at national level with a registrar.

Provision is also made for the National Board for Further Education and Training to advise the Minister on quality promotion and assurance.

2. REPEAL OF LAWS

The Further Education and Training Bill seeks to repeal the Correspondence Colleges Act, 1965 (Act No. 59 of 1965).

3. PERSONS AND ASSOCIATIONS CONSULTED

The proposals for the Bill were discussed with all the national organisations and unions of the organised educator profession, i.e. the South African Democratic Teachers Union (SADTU), the National Professional Teachers Organisation of South Africa (NAPTOSA), die Suid-Afrikaanse Onderwysersunie (SAOU), representatives of technical colleges and community colleges, the Youth Commission and the student organisations COSAS, SASCO, etc.

The Department of Education also consulted the Department of Labour and the Department of State Expenditure. Subsequently, the Heads of Education Departments Committee and the Council of Education Ministers advised the Minister of Education to proceed to introduce the Bill in Parliament.

4. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

The Department of Education and the State Law Advisers are of the opinion that the procedure established by section 76 of the Constitution should be followed with regard to this Bill.
