4. This Act is called the Disestablishment of the Local Government Affairs Council Act, 1999.

MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE DISESTABLISHMENT OF THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT AFFAIRS COUNCIL BILL, 1999

After the abolition of the own affairs administrations, the administration of the Local Government Affairs Council Act (House of Assembly), 1989 (Act No. 84 of 1989), was assigned to the then Transvaal Provincial Administration. After the 1994 general election all laws pertaining to local government were assigned to the then Minister for Provincial Affairs and Constitutional Development and, due to the fact that the Local Government Affairs Council ("the Council") served all four provinces which formed part of the former Transvaal, the said Act was not assigned to those provinces.

As all local area committees that are spread across the whole of the former Transvaal and over which the Council had jurisdiction, have now become part of transitional councils, the Council has been exempted from the execution of its functions in respect of these areas. The Council has no other functions. In terms of section 2(4) of the said Act, however, the Council may only be disestablished by an Act of Parliament.

The Bill seeks to repeal the said Act and two amendment Acts, and to disestablish the Council as all outstanding matters preventing the disestablishment of the said Council have now been finalised.

Consultation

Although the abovementioned four provinces as well as the Local Government Affairs Council have been consulted, this is an enabling Bill and consultation is not really appropriate.

Parliamentary procedure

The State Law Advisers and the Department of Constitutional Development are of the opinion that this Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established by section 75 of the Constitution since it contains no provision to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies.
