

Table of contents

Foreword	5
Executive Summary	6
1. Introduction	11
1.1 Government's commitment	11
1.2 Background	11
1.3 Defining media development	12
1.4 Defining media diversity	13
1.5 Development communication	14
2. Media in South Africa	15
2.1 Historical overview	15
2.2 Ownership of the media today	17
2.3 Distribution and accessibility of media in South Africa	25
2.4 The advertising industry	29
2.5 Summary of the context and need for the MDDA	32
3. Drawing on experience	34
3.1 Media diversity models in other countries	34
3.2 Learning from our own experiences	38
4. The Media Development and Diversity Agency	40
4.1 The MDDA's vision and mission	40
4.2 The MDDA's role	40
4.3 Aims and objectives	40
4.4 The MDDA's powers and mandate	41
4.5 Independence and accountability	42
5. Who will benefit from the MDDA?	43
6. The nature of the support given by the MDDA	44
6.1 Direct subsidies	44
6.2 Indirect subsidies	44
6.3 Emergency funding	45
6.4 Capacity development to produce content	45
6.5 Encouraging social responsibility support	46
6.6 Common distribution carriers	47
6.7 New media	47
6.8 Training	48
6.9 Performance evaluation	48
6.10 Media research	48

7. The MDDA's guiding principles in funding decisions	50
7.1 Media projects requiring long-term support	50
7.2 Good governance	51
7.3 Conditions	51
8. Relationship with other bodies	52
8.1 Relevant bodies	52
8.2 Annual Review Forum	52
8.3 MDDA's relationship with Icasa	53
9. The MDDA's governance structure	54
9.1 The board's composition and function	54
9.2 Chief Executive Officer and staff	55
9.3 Use of experts	55
10. The MDDA's budget	56
10.1 Key funding needs	56
10.2 Funding model	57
10.3 Financing the MDDA	58
11. Glossary	59
12. Annexures	67
Annexure 1: List of organisations and institutions consulted	67
Annexure 2: Key references from the South Africa's Constitution	69
Annexure 3 :Profile of the mainstream commercial newspapers	71
Annexure 3A: Circulation profile of the mainstream newspapers	72
Annexure 4: Profile of mainstream broadcasters	74
Annexure 5: Black economic empowerment in broadcasting	76
Annexure 6: Proposed Organogram	77
Annexure 7: Total needs over five years	78
Annexure 8: Funding model for five-year period	79